Mrs. G. W. Morden
Dies After Several Weeks of Illness

Wed
Jan. 4
1939

The death of Mrs. Morden, wife of Dr. G. W. Morden, former Principal of the Napanee Collegiate, occurred on Sunday, January 1st, at her home on John Street, Napanee, after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Morden, who was the daughter of the late George Daly and Mary Fleming, was born in Napanee and lived here until her marriage, after which she resided with her husband in Picton, London, Eng., the United States, Germany, and London, Ont. Some years ago Dr. Morden returned to Napanee to take the position of Principal of the Napanee Collegiate and since his retirement had continued to live in the town.

Mrs. Morden was a member of St. Andrew's United Church, in which she took an active interest when her health permitted.

Her funeral was held at the family home on Tuesday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. A. J. Wilson, minister of St. Andrew's Church. Interment followed at Riverside Cemetery.

Mrs. Morden is survived by her husband, two sisters, Miss Georgina Daly of Napanee and Lady Louise Twining, of London, England, and two brothers, John G. Daly and William A. Daly, of Napanee. One sister, Mrs. Maria Bennett and a brother, Mr. Herbert Daly, predeceased her.

important responsibility. Laboratories both in Canada and other countries, for the production of smallpox vaccine and similitar laboratory medicinalals were subject to inspection and license by the Department. Its sanitary engineers inspected all water and food storage facilities on international carriers, the U. S. Public Health Service reciprocating.

Quarantine and immigration activities were also described. The Department maintained medical officers in Paris, Antwerp, Hamburg and London for the medical inspection of immigrants, who know before they sell their belongings and buy their tickets whether their family will be admitted to Canada, thus avoiding the hardships of other days. Immigrants, however, who within five years of their arrival come under medical care and are deemed to eventually have to become dependents of the state, are deported. Hostel and hospital accommodation of not less than 500 beds was maintained at Canadian seaports for assembling deportees; ships of the respective lines which brought them to Canada must carry them back free of charge.

Dr. Wodehouse after outlining the care taken in the enforcement of the Food and Drugs Act and many other branches of the Service, referred to the establishment of three new divisions of activity, their real function to be co-operative by invitation of the several provincial health departments — the Maternal and Child Hygiene Division, the Industrial Hygiene Division and the Publicity and Education Division.

Referring to grants made by the Federal Treasury to national voluntary organizations, Dr. Wodehouse stated that the amounts for

Postmaster,

Postmaster, Ameliasburg, Prince
Edward County, Ontario.

Would you be so kind as to help me obtain some information regarding some early residents of Ameliasburg?

I am a student in English and history at the University of Victoria and have begun a paper on the United Empire Loyalists. The search for information has led me to a very interesting story regarding my great great grandfather and grandmother. I would like to get as much information
as possible through county records, and anyone else you may suggest, concerning a family of English Quakers — a fatherless family who migrated to Prince Edward County after the American Revolution from New York State — by the name of Morden. Also any information available regarding a Pennsylvania Dutch family by the name of Brickman; the two given names, Joseph, my grandfather,

and Peter, my great granfather

I would greatly appreciate any help you could give me in my search, through names and addresses of old timers in the community, descendents and the like, of these families, as well as the address
of a place, such as newspaper, land office, archives, etc., where any information regarding them
might be kept.

A further name, that of the English Quaker named Land is of interest to me as being associated with the family Morden.
They were residents of the Hamilton area but may have been first residents of Prince Edward County.

I thank you very much. (Signed)

OBITUARY

It is our painful duty to record the death of Mrs. Thomas Symington, one of our most influential women, who departed this life March 18th, 1913.

The call was indeed very sudden. On Thursday she attended a social evening given by her class and delivered an address on "David Livingston" and was the soul of the gathering. Saturday she put her Bible lesson on the tablet in her class room, and on Tuesday, early in the morning, she breathed her spirit into her Redeemer's hands. The immense congregation that filled the spacious church was a token of the esteem and tenderness in which this useful and gifted woman was held by the citizens of Napanee and surrounding country. She was well known in these Bay Counties, having frequently, in various places, given addresses on literary and religious subjects.

Mrs. Symington (nec Julia Morden) was descended from United Empire Loyalist ancestors, of which she was justly proud. She travelled extensively, and we remember a pathetic return journey alone, bringing the remains of a beloved brother, A. L. Morden, K.C., her travelling companion, who died during a visit in Europe.

Mrs. Symington was a woman of rare gifts and graces. Nature was lavish in its bestowment upon her. She was educated in Belleville and Toronto, where she showed herself a brilliant student. For many years Mrs. Symington lived in Napanee, and was an active member of Grace Methodist Church. She was identified with all the work of that church. In her church relations her faith was strong, her graces active, her conduct exemplary. She was a tender and sympathizing friend, so that her character as a Christian appeared always with peculiar advantage.

The special work to which she directed her energies was teaching her Bible Class. For 37 years she faithfully followed this path of duty. Early in life she saw this pathway stretch out before her, and she faithfully followed it. When merely a young girl her Bible and her class were her delight. The Bible Class was organized and joined the International Sunday School Association Adult Department, according to International standard, December 4th, 1907, and at her death its actual attendance was 60 and 70. Her wide range of reading and extensive travels in Bible lands made her teaching vivid and interesting. There was a charm in her manner of instruction that held her pupils year after year. She was no hurried traveller, but leisurely, with the eye of a trained observer, she noted everything worthy of note for her class. This Bible Class was her life, for this she lived. It seems remarkable at the end of 37 years of continuous teaching that at her death it numbered 77 members. She indulged in no sensational teachings to keep her people. The Bible was her text book, the old doctrines her theme. What hundreds of people this woman has helped; what hundreds of young men she prepared for business and the struggle of life; what a useful life; it was fully consecrated to this end. "Duty my law shall be, and I'll live and do and die for the Christ who died and lives for me." A touching memorial service was held by the class in their parlor last Sunday in memory of their beloved teacher.

In private life she was exact and regular in her devotion, grateful for kindness received and willing to impart assistance where it could relieve. The pastor said in his address at the funeral, "To praise the extent of her knowledge, the acuteness of her mind, her accuracy of judgment, or the eloquence of her expression is unnecessary, but we should remember her that we might imitate her virtues and have our faith stimulated and be led to tread the path of duty and never weary." Grace Church will miss one so faithful in all its interests, the "Daughters of the Empire" one of the most accomplished of its sisterhood, and the community at large this elect lady who was so willing to lend assistance to every good cause.

The church was draped in her honor. The Bible Class and Daughters of the Empire occupied seats reserved for them.

The impressive services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. P. Wilson, B.A., assisted by Rev. A. L. Howard, M.A., of the Presbyterian Church.

The sympathy of our town goes out to our esteemed townsman, Mr. Thomas Symington, in his great sorrow.
